Safeguard your provider network

androsMonitoring* tracks critical provider status changes in one place, so you can manage your network effectively and ensure you're meeting your plan members' needs.

Credentialing ensures that healthcare patients have access to quality care delivered by thoroughly qualified healthcare professionals, but it's only a snapshot in time. Once credentialing is complete, circumstances can change— providers may let their licenses expire, or regulatory entities like Office of the Inspector General (OIG), System for Award Management (SAM), and Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) may issue sanctions and exclusions against them.

These red flag issues affect your members' ability to receive the care they need.

Your single source of truth androsMonitoring* regularly verifies that providers in your network do not have expirations or sanctions that might jeopardize their ability to practice under state and federal regulations. We check for expirable credentials, such as state licenses, and sanctions from regulatory bodies as frequently as they are issued.
